Welcome Message from the Chair of the CAPRI International Advisory Council

It is my great pleasure to be in Taiwan for CAPRI's inaugural Annual Forum. Having lived, studied, and worked across the world, remarkably this is my first time visiting this island, and I am incredibly grateful to Syaru Shirley Lin, CAPRI's Chair, for the invitation to join you today.

The past three years have increased international attention on Taiwan, partly because of geopolitics, but also because of its effective handling of the COVID-19 pandemic. Like the rest of the world, Taiwan could not fully avoid the virus but demonstrated that pandemic management is possible with effective public health measures. Most striking has been the level of collaboration here, where the public's trust in their government is rewarded with open and transparent decision making that brings in different groups. This model for multilateral cooperation should be replicated worldwide.

Beyond COVID, the next great challenge the world faces is the rise of authoritarian, populist, protectionist regimes. It was only through the sharing of information and technology across borders that we could manage COVID, so reversing this progress would be a considerable regression. Rather than looking to the US or Europe for cues, democratic leaders of the Asia Pacific must build a collaborative ecosystem that guards the peaceful relations that have enabled our region's extraordinary economic growth over the last 50 years and ensures its future prosperity. With Japan and India hosting the G7 and G20 meetings, 2023 is a unique year for Asian countries to assert themselves on the international stage.

With this in mind, I am delighted to see CAPRI's ambition for building networks across the Asia Pacific and promoting the best the region has to offer across the world. This Annual Forum is a fantastic opportunity to recognize the work CAPRI is doing to share thinking from the region, connecting countries and organizations with shared ambitions for an equitable and sustainable future.

Malcolm Turnbull
Chair of the CAPRI International Advisory Council;
Former Prime Minister of Australia (2015-2018)

亞堅會國際顧問委員會主席的話

我很榮幸能夠出席亞堅會的首屆年度國際論壇。即使曾在世界各地生活、求學、工作過，這卻是我第一次來到台灣。我很衷心感謝亞堅會董事長林夏如教授的邀請，讓我能夠與大家一同參與今天的活動。

過去三年間，台灣受到國際關注的程度有所增加，部分原因是地緣政治，同時也歸功於台灣對於 COVID-19 疫情的有效應對。與世界其他地方一樣，台灣無法完全避免病毒的肆虐，但台灣卻成功地向外展示，如何透過有效的公衛政策管控疫情。最令人印象深刻的是台灣展現的協作程度，由於民眾對政府的信任，政府透明開放的決策過程吸納了各個不同社群的意見。這種多邊合作的模式值得全球學習。

COVID-19 疫情之後，世界所面臨的下一個重大挑戰是威權主義、民粹主義及保護主義政權的崛起。唯有透過跨國界的資訊與技術分享，我們才能有效應對 COVID-19，而若逆轉這樣的進展將是一大倒退。亞太地區的民主領導人不應該只是借鑒美國或歐洲的經驗，而必須建立一個合作的生態系統，維護我們地區在過去 50 年間實現了非凡經濟增長的和平關係，並確保未來的繁榮。2023 年由日本及印度分別主辦 G7 及 G20 會議，是亞洲國家在國際舞臺上大放異彩的獨特機會。

鑑此，我很高興看到亞堅會在建立亞太地區夥伴網絡及推廣該區域寶貴經驗的願景。今天的年度國際論壇是一個絕佳的機會，可以認識到亞堅會推動的工作，分享來自該地區的想法，並將具有共同抱負的國家及組織聯繫在一起，致力於實現公平與永續的未來。

滕博爾
亞堅會國際顧問委員會主席；
前澳洲總理 (2015-2018)

Welcome Message from the Chair of CAPRI

Welcome to CAPRI's inaugural Annual Forum. In celebration of our first anniversary, we are proud to showcase the unique platform that we have built for connecting global thought leadership and highlight how the Asia Pacific can emerge from the pandemic more innovative and resilient moving forward.

The COVID-19 pandemic created an unprecedented crisis worldwide, affecting physical and mental health and disrupting the global economy. It revealed the failure of multilateral organizations to provide solutions that restore resilience. More than ever, different sectors, communities, and countries must work together to understand and manage these complex issues. CAPRI was founded out of this crisis with the belief that a resilient future must rely on good governance and innovative public policy, grounded in evidence-based research and cross-border cooperation.

As an epicenter of many global challenges in public policy, from the continued effects of economic crises and the climate emergency to the multidimensional issue of population aging, Asia-Pacific societies have much to learn and share with each other and the world. Innovative thinking, cross-sector collaboration, and the simultaneous consideration of problems that have typically been studied separately are the tenets upon which CAPRI was founded one year ago. Just as the phoenix from Greek mythology is reborn from its own ashes, CAPRI aims to enable the region and the world to come back stronger and better prepared for future challenges.

Establishing an international, nongovernmental think tank in Taipei presented challenges at every turn; we quickly learned that we were not only setting up one of the first INGOs to be headquartered in Taiwan but also addressing a need for research that connects sectors, disciplines, and experts across the globe. I am thankful for the support of CAPRI's donors, board members, International Advisory Council, staff, and network of partners around the world for their commitment to our mission, enabling us to promote innovative governance for years to come.

Syaru Shirley Lin
Chair of CAPRI

亞堅會董事長的話

歡迎蒞臨亞太堅韌研究基金會（亞堅會）的首屆年度國際論壇。為慶祝亞堅會成立屆滿週年，我們將展示亞堅會與全球思想領袖交流的重要平台，並分享亞太地區如何能夠從疫情中蛻變，以更具創新及韌性的方式繼續前行。

COVID-19 疫情為全球帶來空前的危機，不僅影響人們的身心健康，更擾亂了全球經濟秩序。疫情也凸顯出當前多邊組織未能發揮功能，提供社會恢復韌性的適當解方。鑑此，各個行業、社群及國家更須共同合作，致力理解及管理各種挑戰與難題。亞堅會即是在這場危機中成立，我們相信若欲建立一個更具韌性的未來，必須仰賴於良好的治理與創新的公共政策，並以循證研究與跨界合作為基礎。

作為全球重大公共政策挑戰的中心，亞太社會具備許多可相互學習及與世界分享的寶貴經驗，例如應處經濟危機持續影響、氣候緊急狀態及人口老化等多面向之挑戰。亞堅會的創立源自我們對於創新思維、跨界合作的追求，並設法以整體性方式思考普遍被視為各自獨立的問題。亞堅會致力於協助亞太地區及世界克服疫情逆境並重獲新生，為因應未來的挑戰注入動能，打造堅韌社會。

在台北成立一個國際非政府智庫，每一步都面臨著挑戰。亞堅會是最先將總部設在台灣的國際非政府組織之一，亦回應了匯聚全球產業、學界與專家的研究需求。我很感謝亞堅會的支持者、董事會成員、國際顧問委員會、工作團隊及全球夥伴網絡對我們使命的堅持與認可，讓我們在未來持續推動創新治理。

亞堅會董事長

CAPRI 2023 Annual Forum

Asia Pacific: A Resilient Phoenix Rising from the Pandemic May 29, 2023

Three years after the world was first shaken by the COVID-19 pandemic, governments, businesses, and the public are attempting a return to normalcy. As a post-pandemic mindset takes hold in policy communities, the Asia-Pacific region is poised to contribute to these efforts by sharing its successes, failures, and learnings across public health, economic dynamism, talent circulation, and sustainable growth. What lessons does the region hold for policymakers striving to build a more resilient and inclusive post-pandemic world? In CAPRI's 2023 Annual Forum, members from CAPRI's International Advisory Council and Board of Directors, key stakeholders in the region's policy community, and experts contributing to CAPRI's ongoing research will discuss pressing challenges to resilience and solutions as the Asia Pacific emerges from this latest crisis and prepares for future ones.
